Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10, 11, 13-17, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Jakes et al.(U.S.Pat.6,909,075).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jakes in view of Ward. Jakes does not explicitly show a crucible made of an alloy of alumina and silicon nitride. Ward discloses a rapidly cast alloy strip having dissimilar portions that shows an alloy of alumina and silicon nitride. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time of the claimed invention to use an alloy as claimed so as to provide a crucible for sustained operations.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Berson is cited to show structure similar to the claimed invention.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8-15-2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument that Jakes does not show a sintering process please note a sintering process may be one where materials are heated to below the melting point or may be a liquid state sintering where some of the materials are heated to the melting point however in either case one of ordinary skill in the sintering process would know how long and at what temperature to heat the material to achieve a desired result. Applicant's argument that Jakes does not move material please see figure 1 and read the abstract material is move from one location to another.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
